On Wednesday, the day before the day of execution, when Lieut. Col. William W. Forsyth, the ambassador and I were again discourth Cavalry, to be colonel, Sixteenth cussing the subject, he showed me a cable from his government stating that his government had considered the Casement case and the resolution of the senate and had come to the conclusion that, in view of all the circumclusion that, in view of all the circum-stances, it could not grant elemency.

"Particular stress was laid, as I re-call, by the British government on the fact that Irish prisoners in Germany who refused to assist Casement had been punished. The statements made in letters to Mrs. Newman that, had the resolution been presented in time the resolution been presented in time, her brother's life would have been spared, were utterly and entirely with-out foundation. You can state au-thoritatively that the ambassador read me the actual message from his govern-ment stating the resolution had been considered and that the conclusion had been reached that clemency could not se granted."
